Patient Financial Responsibilities

In order to simplify your check-in and check-out procedure we ask that you come to your appointment prepared with the following:

Please bring your insurance cards with you for us to copy for you file.

Be aware if your insurance plan provides medical coverage or vision coverage including glasses and contact lenses. Most medical plans do not cover refractions, which is the most important measurement of your vision. If you do not have a vision plan, you are responsible to pay for the refraction.

Be prepared to pay your co-payment or your portion of services and materials that are not covered by your insurance.

If you do not have insurance or you have not met your yearly deductible, you are responsible to pay for services in full.

Prior insurance authorization is not a guaranty of payment for services or materials. This is per your insurance company.

We cannot verify insurance coverage for all patients, therefore if for any reason your insurance does not pay for your services or materials, you will be responsible for payment.

I have read and agreed to the above Patient Financial Responsibilities.

Comprehensive Eye Exam

A comprehensive or complete eye exam consists of two parts.

Part 1

The first part of your eye exam is what the insurance companies refer to as the “Medical” part of your exam. This is checking your eyes for cataracts, glaucoma and other eye diseases.

Part 2

The second part of your exam is what insurance companies refer to as the “Vision” part of your exam. This is determining the best possible vision for you both with glasses and without. The best and most important indication of how your eyes are working is a measurement of your best possible vision. Without this part of the exam we cannot clearly determine if any deterioration in your vision is due to eye disease or needing a change in your corrective lenses.

If you have “Medical” insurance and do not have a “Vision” plan we are contracted with, you will be responsible to pay for the Vision part of your exam today which is $40.00 plus your co-pay for your “Medical” insurance.

I understand and agree that regardless of my insurance status, I am responsible for the “Vision” part of my exam today. I understand that the billing department will file the fee with my insurance and if payment is received it will be refunded to me.
